

After nearly recording two triple-doubles in La Salette's first appearance at the NCSAA National Basketball Tournament, James Deister has been named to the Central United States Super-Region Team by the National Christian School Athletic Association. James' averages of 12.5 points, 7.2 assists, and 5.6 rebounds per game were good enough to earn him a spot as the only athlete from Illinois in this group. Deister was also named as a Special Mention all-area member by the News-Gazette, while Joel Adese earned Honorable Mention.
